ADVISORY SERVICES TO THE PROVINCIAL PROGRAMME MANAGEMENT OFFICE AT EAST JAVA OF INDONESIA

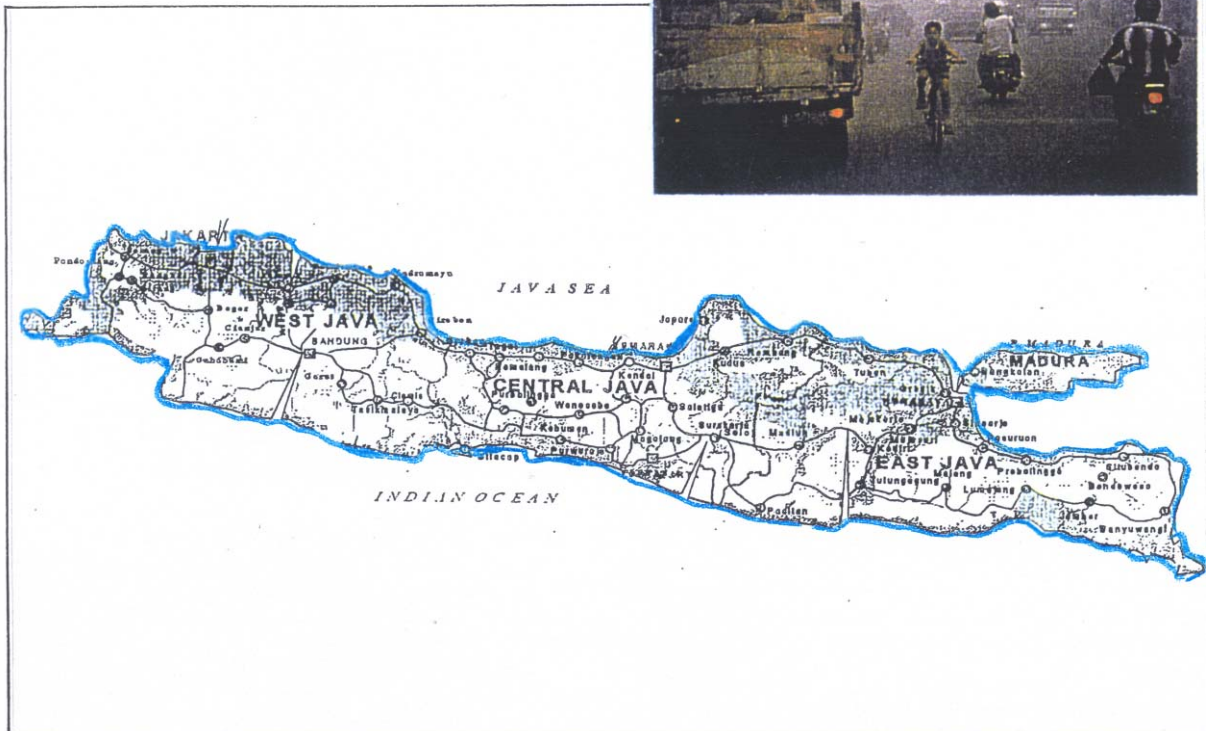

The Second East Java Urban Development Project was designed to support urban infrastructure investment in a number of towns and cities throughout the Province. The specific project involved support to the central and local governments of East Java in the preparation of medium term investment plans for road, water supply, sewage and solid waste management projects.

The project was undertaken for the Indonesian directorate General of Human Settlements in the Ministry of Public Works and was financed by an IBRD loan. The project was based on the decentralization of implementation management responsibilities whereby the Provincial Government has the primary implementation responsibility of projects. At provincial level, responsibility for implementation and monitoring of project was held by the Provincial Programme Management Office (PPMO), which was divided into the Provincial Technical Coordination and Monitoring Unit (PTCU) and Provincial Financial Coordination and Monitoring Unit (PPMO).

Advisory services were availed to the PPMO in the context of the project, however when necessary, these services were extended to local governments as well.

The performance of the implementation of various projects was monitored and reported at timely intervals.

Problems occurring during the implementation of various projects were identified and solutions were found. Training of personnel in the PPMO as well as its sub-units (PTCU and PFCMU) on the implementation process, financing and the use of funds was also undertaken in the context of the project.
